

PRIVATE STOCK MAY BE TRANSPORTED SAYS HIGH COURT

Authorities May Regulate Transfer of
Such Liquor

OFFICIALS ARE STUDYING DECISION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(By The Associated Press).—Storage of lawfully acquired liquors in commercial warehouses and the transportation of such stocks to the homes of the owner is not prohibited by the Volstead act, according to a decision handed down today by the supreme court.

In passing upon the appeal of William G. Street of New York from decisions of lower courts refusing to enjoin internal revenue officials from seizing liquors he had placed in a room rented from a safe deposit company, the supreme court reversed the lower courts and held that the injunctions should be granted. The effect of this ruling had not been fully appraised tonight by internal revenue and prohibition enforcement officials.

The belief was expressed, that the result might be the release of some 10,000,000 gallons of intoxicating beverages which have been stored in warehouses since January 16, 1920.

Test Case Will Be Filed.
Records on file here show that in addition to immense quantities of liquors purchased and stored by individual consumers there were in storage when the Volstead act became effective large stocks held by hotels and restaurants. Whether these latter stocks come within today's ruling has not been determined. It was anticipated that test cases would be filed soon on this and similar questions arising from the undetermined scope of the new interpretation of the Volstead act.

Justice Clark, who rendered the opinion today held that the transportation of liquor from warehouses to the owners' home would be legal if the liquor had been lawfully required and for lawful purpose. He said:

"That transportation of the liquor * * * is not such as is prohibited by the section is apparent to justify detailed consideration of the many provisions of the act inconsistent with a construction which would render such removal unlawful, and that the act is understood by the officers charged with its execution as permitting such transportation is shown by the provision of the regulations of the bureau of internal revenue authorizing permits for the transportation of liquor from one permanent residence of an owner to another in the case of his removal, altho no such transfer is provided for by the act."

Have Power to Regulate Transfer.
The opinion pointed out, however, that internal revenue authorities undoubtedly had the administrative power to regulate the transfer of such liquors so as to prevent their use in violation of the law.

"An intention to 'consecrate private property,' the opinion concluded, 'even in intoxicating liquors' would not be raised by inference and construction from provisions of law which have ample field for their operation in effecting a purpose clearly indicated and declared."

Justice McReynolds concurring in the judgment of the court dissented as to the reasoning in which it was reached.

"I think the Volstead act was properly interpreted by the court below," he said, "but to enforce as thus construed would result in virtual confiscation of lawfully acquired liquor by preventing or unduly interfering with its consumption by the owner."

The eighteenth amendment gave no such power to congress. Manufacture, sale and transportation are the things prohibited—not personal use."

Officials Studying Decision.
Prohibition enforcement officials began studying the decision immediately after it was read. The opinion was frankly expressed that many changes would have to be made in the enforcement regulations, but pending detailed study of the case and the circumstances surrounding the litigation, no official statement was forthcoming.

One effect of the decree for seen was the danger of increased opportunity for fraud among persons seeking means of violating the law.

Without the check on transportation provided by the permit system officials indicated that they expected greater difficulty in controlling unlawful sales.

AMERICAN FARMERS BREAK PRODUCTION RECORDS FOR YEAR

Crops are Corn, Tobacco,
Rice, Sweet Potatoes and Peas

CORN TOTALS OVER THREE BILLION BUSHELS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—American farmers broke production records of five crops this year, preliminary estimates announced today by the department of agriculture show the corn, tobacco, rice, sweet potatoes and peas crops surpassed in size those of any previous year in this country's history.

In addition very large crops were grown in some instances closely approaching records of oats, barley, rye, potatoes, apples and hay. The buckwheat production record however, has stood since 1866 with this year's crop more than 8,000,000 bushels under it. Final crop production figures will be announced next month.

Corn, King of All Crops.
Corn, king of all crops, reported the enormous total of 3,199,125,000 bushels. That is 75,000,000 bushels more than ever before grown in any year. This is the third corn crop to exceed three billion bushels, the previous record having been made in 1912, while the crop of 1917 was the second largest.

In point of value this year's corn crop will not equal that of last year based on the December 1 price which was $1.33 a bushel it was worth $3,934,234,000. The crop of 1912 was valued at $1,520,454,000 on the December 1 price of 48.7 cents a bushel and the 1917 crop at $3,920,228,000 with the December price almost $1.30 a bushel. The value of this year's crop, based on the November 1 farm price which was $7.3 cents a bushel is estimated at $2,792,837,000.

Illinois Ranks Second.
Iowa's corn crop is the largest of any state at 441,660,000 bushels. Illinois ranks second with 302,634,000 bushels and Nebraska third at 250,998,000 bushels.

The tobacco crop this year, placed at 1,476,444,000 pounds by the preliminary estimate is 87,000 pounds more than grown last year when all previous records were broken.

Production of rice this year exceeds by 12,000,000 bushels, the previous largest crop in 1917. The output this year is placed at 52,298,000 bushels, almost half of which was grown in Louisiana.

The sweet potato harvest will show 107,656,000 bushels which is 2,600,000 bushels more than grown last year when the crop exceeded all previous year's production.

Alabama's output is larger than any other state.

PROHI VIOLATORS WILL BE INDICTED

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—The federal grand jury which, for the past two weeks has been investigating alleged whiskey rings in Chicago and other cities, today considered the evidence it has obtained. It was estimated that between 75 and 100 indictments might be returned when the grand jury announces its report. Meantime federal officials asked that warrants be prepared for the entire list of men against whom indictments were expected.

If the indictments are returned they will come before Federal Judge Landis and the cases will be tried before him.

It was understood today that federal authorities have wired to Washington asking that no passports be issued the men expected to be indicted, as information had been obtained to the effect that several of the men were planning to leave for Cuba.

B. & O. TO MAKE CUT AT BALTIMORE

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 8.—Some ninety men are to be laid off at the Mount Clare shops of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad by Nov. 16, it was decided today. Nearly 150 men were discharged a week ago. The lay-off it is understood to a natural dullness, which may last but a short time.

FATAL SHOOTING WILL BE INVESTIGATED

Granite City, Ill., Nov. 8.—An investigation into the fatal shooting Saturday night of Luka Vokitch, 37 years old, in his home in Madison, near here, by S. Glenn Young, prohibition enforcement agent, and Walter Cowgill of the Granite City police department, was begun today by Assistant State's Attorney Steele.

When analyzed may yet show, officials thought, means whereby interstate transportation could be stopped.

Will Not Affect Illinois.
Chicago, Nov. 8.—The supreme court's ruling that liquor lawfully acquired can be moved from place to place will not affect the legality of the Illinois search and seizure law, which prohibits this practice, federal officials said today. Persons transporting liquor, however, will be subject to arrest only by police or state officials.

OATH OF ALLEGIANCE CLAUSE WILL KILL IRISH HOME RULE

This is the Opinion of
Irish and Liberal
Politicians

LORD CECIL CALLS IT A LEGISLATIVE ABSURDITY

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The Irish home bill rule passed through nearly the final stage in the house of commons tonight with two new clauses added by the government which in the opinion of Irish and Liberal politicians rendered the measure practically dead.

These clauses, which provide for second chambers and the dissolution of the parliaments should they not be properly constituted, were carried after being severely criticised by former Premier Asquith and others as tending to reduce Ireland to the condition of a backward crown colony by ample majorities in a small house, showing the slight interest now shown in the bill.

The measure has to run the gauntlet of the house of lords, where according to rumors current in the coalition newspapers an attempt will be made to cut the six clause counties completely out of the bill, leaving them to be administered as at present from Westminster.

The clause in the bill providing for the creation of second chambers was adopted by 175 to 31. It leaves to the Irish parliament the duty of framing the necessary scheme. The government had originally proposed itself to draft the scheme and was today subject to much hostile criticism for evading the task. The government's critics declared that the Irish parliament would not succeed in drafting a successful scheme.

Another amendment to the bill was adopted placing upon the southern parliament the responsibility for providing funds for Irish universities.

Must Take Oath of Allegiance.
The government's early proposal that all candidates for election to the Irish parliaments must take the oath of allegiance before being nominated, which has provoked more severe criticism than any other provision of the bill has been quietly dropped and today the government moved the new clause to replace it and provide for the case of either Irish parliament not being properly constituted.

The new clause provides that if the number of members validly elected to either parliament at the first election is less than half the total membership or if the number who have taken the oath of allegiance within four days from the date of election is less than half, the king may, by an order-in-council dissolve such parliament and place the functions of the government in the hands of a committee nominated by the lord lieutenant pending the summoning of a new parliament.

Lord Hugh Cecil criticised the clause as the greatest legislative absurdity ever suggested. Mr. Asquith said the clause forcibly illustrated the farcical character of the southern parliament. The contingency contemplated, he asserted, was certain to arise in Southern Ireland, which then would be reduced to the condition of the most backward of the crown colonies.

This clause was carried by 137 to 11.

Six Days a Week Program
Will be Effective

WORKING TIME GROWING SHORT

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 8.—A rule proposing a ten minute time limit to all debate in the constitutional convention and its committee of the whole was adopted by the rules committee this afternoon. The rule will be acted upon by the convention tomorrow morning.

An exception to the rule is recommended in the case of committee chairman and movers of motions. This move by the rules committee together with indication tonight that the "six day a week" program will be put into effect gave proof that for the time at least adjournment talk has been discontinued.

There remains but little more than one month's actual working time for the convention. Its session must end before the general assembly convenes in January as the call provides it must meet in representative hall. Before that time two more recesses, Thanksgiving and Christmas will be encountered. Besides setting a time limit for debate the committee on rules and procedure adopted the following order of business for tomorrow:

Report of the committee on revenue, taxation and finance will be heard first, then the committees on initiative, referendum and recall; Judicial department and Chicago and Cook county.

CHANGE PASSPORT REGULATIONS

ROTTERDAM, Nov. 8.—Deferred efforts are being made by agents of the Russian Bolshevik government to send missionaries and agitators to the United States according to evidence collected by American diplomatic officials in Europe. The spy and courier system of the Moscow government is said to surpass in efficiency and extent that of the German general staff before the outbreak of the great war and on he lists of several secret agents are said to be the names of many men who before 1914 acted as spies for the central powers or Russia.

Against this campaign, the United States arrayed its agents and officials at foreign ports. Associated with them in Holland are the Dutch police who have in their possession documents showing that Lenin, the Soviet leader look to the formation of a world clearing house for soviet finance and propaganda.

Bolsheviki Are Indexed.
Huge index files have been filed with the names and record of the upwards of 25,000 Bolshevik "missionaries" and these files have been placed in virtually every American embassy, legation and consulate in Europe. New passport regulations have formed and difficultly awaits the Bolshevik agitators attempts to secure a visa from an representative.

Despite these regulations and the constant vigilance of American officials it is believed some Bolshevik agents in the recent past have succeeded in finding means to cross the ocean and select the twelfth member of the new league.

The action came after an all-day session of both factions in the re-organization plans with neither side yielding to the other. Emmissaries from the Johnson club conferred with the club owners at the joint session of eight National and three American league clubs, but without results.

REPORT PRISONERS IN SIBERIA DYING

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 6.—Lieutenant Fischer of the Austrian army and eight comrades, who escaped from a Siberian prison camp, arrived here today and declared that the prisoners in Siberia were dying by whole sale from starvation and disease. The Austrians cited one camp of 5,000 prisoners of whom they said two thousand died in six months. Forty thousand died up to the end of 1918, they declared; and the number who had perished since then was unknown. Owing to the frozen ground it was impossible to bury the dead during the winter, according to the Austrians, and naked bodies were stacked like logs outside the huts they had occupied, remaining there until spring.

All other American dead in Great Britain have been returned to the United States, according to the war department announcement.

MAJOR LEAGUE CLUBS SPLIT ON THE LASKER ORGANIZATION PLAN

Eleven Clubs Plan for a
Twelve Club
League

FIVE STICK TO BAN JOHNSON

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—The major baseball leagues today were broken up and a new twelve club league composed of the eight national league clubs and the three from the American League which have sided with them in the plans for re-organization of the game was organized. A twelfth member will be chosen later, it was announced.

Organization of the new league came after the five American League clubs had refused to reply to an ultimatum issued by the other eleven clubs giving them an hour and a half to join in the reorganization.

After organizing the new league the baseball magnates proceeded with the Lasker plan for civilian control of professional baseball and appointed Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, of Chicago, chairman of the tribunal that will govern the same.

To Be Supreme Dictator.
Judge Landis, if he accepts the position, will be the supreme dictator of all leagues joining the plan will receive a salary of $50,000 a year.

Second and third members of the tribunal will be appointed later and one of them will be chosen by the minor leagues. Representatives of the new league left tonight for Kansas City where the National Association of Minor Leagues meets tomorrow, to present the proposition to them. The minor league members would serve for six years while Judge Landis would be given a contract for seven years according to a statement made after the meeting by the club owners.

Judge Landis was notified of his appointment by a committee of five members and told them he would take the matter under advisement and make known his decision within a few days.

The plans for the new league and a new controlling body contain frequent reference to the minor leagues which are given assurance that they will not be overlooked in the administration of the game and that their territory will not be invaded in selecting the twelfth member of the new league.

The action came after an all-day session of both factions in the re-organization plans with neither side yielding to the other. Emmissaries from the Johnson club conferred with the club owners at the joint session of eight National and three American league clubs, but without results.

Five Clubs Support Johnson.
The five clubs which stood by Johnson in the fight are Detroit, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Washington and St. Louis.

Tonight they maintained that the new league would have no effect on them.

"We are the majority of the American League and consequently, are the American League," Clark Griffith, of the Washington club said. "The American League will operate this year with or without the Chicago, New York and Boston clubs."

The new league will give New York, Chicago and Boston two clubs in the same league. Brooklyn also is included, giving Greater New York three representatives. The other members were Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, (National), Philadelphia, (National) and the twelfth member yet to be chosen.

Previous to today's action, members of Johnson's "solid five" had declared that the three American League clubs would not be able to take their players on a club belonged to the league under contracts previously made.

This factor they said would give the five remaining American League Clubs additional strength and enable them to proceed with organization of a new American League. Individual club owners said they would fight to the last court before allowing any player to be taken over by the new league.

ATTORNEY GENERAL NEAR FELONY SAYS JUDGE ANDERSON

Criticizes Action of Official in Open
Court

WILL PROCEED WITH CONSPIRACY CASES

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 8.—Attorney General Palmer's orders limiting the government's evidence to be used in the soft conspiracy cases against 124 operators and miners in Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania, was criticised by Federal Judge Anderson in the United States district court today as being "strangely close to the compounding of a felony," and also "dangerously near contempt of court."

Trial of the cases was scheduled to begin today but the government counsel said it was not ready to proceed. Before granting the continuance asked by the government counsel, Judge Anderson undertook an investigation of the attorney general's orders regarding the cases ending with his criticism of Mr. Palmer's conduct.

Trials Called for January.
The court set next January as the date for calling the trials again announcing that the "mean time will give us time to get our bearings and at least find out whether we are to govern by law or person."

The attorney general was not present at the meeting but C. B. Ames, former assistant to Mr. Palmer, explained that Mr. Palmer's conduct came after hearing most of the testimony and that he was up to his assertion with a series of questions as to whether the attorney general had authority to agree not to use certain evidence.

"It is strangely near to the compounding of a felony," said Judge Anderson in this connection. "I am not saying it is. I am saying it is strangely near it."

Similar to the judge's discussion elements constituting contempt of court, his purpose being, he said, to "see how dangerous near this gentleman has got himself to a contempt of this court."

"The arm of this court is long," continued Judge Anderson in this connection and has been known to reach farther than Washington. I am suggesting what may or may not be done. Mr. Palmer is the attorney general, and there is a certain amount of consideration that I am bound to pay to his official position if I do not pay it to him himself."

After making these remarks, Judge Anderson called on District Attorney Vannoy to produce messages exchanged with the department of justice about re-opening the conspiracy cases with the view of reporting further grand jury indictments increasing the list of defendants. One message bearing the name of Assistant Attorney General Mitchell said the "attorney general has instructed me to request that before seeking indictments you should consult with and lay the fact before this department."

Interpreting this message Judge Anderson said its effect was that

PRIVATE STOCK MAY BE TRANSPORTED SAYS HIGH COURT

Authorities May Regulate Transfer of
Such Liquor

OFFICIALS ARE STUDYING DECISION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(By The Associated Press.)—Storage of lawfully acquired liquors in commercial warehouses and the transportation of such stocks to the homes of the owner is not prohibited by the Volstead act, according to a decision handed down today by the supreme court.

In passing upon the appeal of William G. Street of New York from decisions of lower courts refusing to enjoin internal revenue officials from seizing liquors he had placed in a room rented from a safe deposit company, the supreme court reversed the lower courts and held that the injunctions should be granted. The effect of this ruling had not been fully appraised tonight by internal revenue and prohibition enforcement officials.

The belief was expressed, that the result might be the release of some 10,000,000 gallons of intoxicating beverages which have been stored in warehouses since January 1, 1920.

Records on file here show that in addition to immense quantities of liquors purchased and stored by individual consumers there were in storage when the Volstead act became effective large stocks held by hotels and restaurants. Whether these latter stocks come within today's ruling has not been determined. It was anticipated that test cases would be filed soon on this and similar questions arising from the undetermined scope of the new interpretation of the Volstead act.

Justice Clark, who rendered the opinion today held that the transportation of liquor from warehouses to the owners' home would be legal if the liquor had been lawfully required and for lawful purpose. He said:

"That transportation of the liquors * * * is not such as is prohibited by the section is too apparent to justify detailed consideration of the many provisions of the act inconsistent with a construction which would render such removal unlawful, and that the act is understood by the officers charged with its execution as permitting such transportation is shown by the provision of the regulations of the bureau of internal revenue authorizing permits for the transportation of liquor from one permanent residence of an owner to another in the case of his removal, altho no such transfer is provided for by the act."

Have Power to Regulate Transfer.

The opinion pointed out, however, that internal revenue authorities undoubtedly had the administrative power to regulate the transfer of such liquors so as to prevent their use in violation of the law.

"An intention to confiscate private property," the opinion concluded, "even in intoxicating liquors will not be raised by inference and construction from provisions of law which have ample field for their operation in effecting a purpose clearly indicated and declared."

Justice McReynolds concurring in the judgment of the court dissented as to the reasoning in which it was reached.

"I think the Volstead act was properly interpreted by the court below," he said, "but to enforce as thus construed would result in virtual confiscation of lawfully acquired liquor by preventing or unduly interfering with their consumption by the owner."

"The eighteenth amendment gave no such power to congress. Manufacture, sale and transportation are the things prohibited—not personal use."

Officials Studying Decision.

Prohibition enforcement officials began studying the decision immediately after it was read. The opinion was frankly expressed that many changes would have to be made in the enforcement regulations, but pending detailed study of the case and the circumstances surrounding the litigation, no official statement was forthcoming.

One effect of the decree for seen was the danger of increased opportunity for fraud among persons seeking means of violating the law.

Without the check on transportation provided by the permit system officials indicated that they expected greater difficulty in controlling unlawful sales.

decision had not been reported tonight as to whether the court's interpretation opens the way for unrestricted transportation in interstate commerce. That transfer can be carried within a state, but the language of the

THREE BILLION BUSHELS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—American farmers broke production records of five crops this year, preliminary estimates announced today by the department of agriculture show the corn, tobacco, rice, sweet potatoes and pear crops surpassed in size those of any previous year in this country's history.

In addition very large crops were grown in some instances closely approaching records of oats, barley, rye, potatoes, apples and hay. The buckwheat production record however, has stood since 1866 with this year's crop more than 8,000,000 bushels under it. Final crop production figures will be announced next month.

Corn, King of All Crops.

Corn, king of all crops, reported the enormous total of 3,199,126,000 bushels. That is 75,000,000 bushels more than ever before grown in any year. This is the third corn crop to exceed three billion bushels, the previous record having been made in 1912, while the crop of 1917 was the second largest.

In point of value this year's corn crop will not equal that of last year based on the December 1 price which was $1.33 a bushel. It was worth $2,934,234,000. The crop of 1912 was valued at $1,520,454,000 on the December 1 price of 48.7 cents a bushel and the 1917 crop at $3,920,228,000 with the December price almost $1.30 a bushel. The value of this year's crop, based on the November 1 farm price which was 87.3 cents a bushel is estimated at $2,932,837,000.

Iowa's corn crop is the largest of any state at 441,660,000 bushels. Illinois ranks second with 392,624,000 bushels and Nebraska third at 250,998,000 bushels.

The tobacco crop this year, placed at 1,476,444,000 pounds by the preliminary estimate is 87,000 pounds more than grown last year when all previous records were broken.

Production of rice this year exceeds by 12,000,000 bushels, the previous largest crop in 1917. The output this year is placed at 52,298,000 bushels, almost half of which was grown in Louisiana.

The sweet potato harvest will show 105,656,000 bushels which is 2,000,000 bushels more than grown last year when the crop exceeded all previous year's production.

Alabama's output is larger than any other state.

Meantime federal officials asked that warrants be prepared for the entire list of federal agents whom indictments were expected.

If the indictments are returned they will come before Federal Judge Landis and the cases will be tried before him.

It was understood today that federal authorities have wired to Washington asking that no passports be issued the men expected to be indicted, as information had been obtained to the effect that several of the men were planning to leave for Cuba.

Will Not Affect Illinois.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—The supreme court's ruling that liquor lawfully acquired can be moved from place to place will not affect the legality of the Illinois search and seizure law, which prohibits this practice, federal officials said today. Persons transporting liquor, however, will be subject to arrest only by police or state officials.

OATH OF ALLEGIANCE CLAUDE WILL KILL IRISH HOME RULE

This is the Opinion of
Irish and Liberal
Politicians

LORD CECIL CALLS IT A LEGISLATIVE ABSURDITY

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The Irish home bill rule passed through nearly the final stage in the house of commons tonight with two new clauses added by the government which in the opinion of Irish and Liberal politicians rendered the measure practically dead.

These clauses, which provide for second chambers and the dissolution of the parliaments should they not be properly constituted, were carried after being severely criticised by former Premier Asquith and others as tending to reduce Ireland to the condition of a backward crown colony by ample majorities in a small house, showing the slight interest now shown in the bill.

The measure has to run the gauntlet of the house of lords, where according to rumors current in the coalition newspapers an attempt will be made to cut out the six aldermen completely out of the bill, leaving them to be administered as at present from Westminster.

The clause in the bill providing for the creation of second chambers was adopted by 175 to 31. It leaves to the Irish parliament the duty of framing the necessary scheme. The government had originally proposed itself to draft the scheme and was today subject to much hostile criticism for evading the task. The government's critics declared that the Irish parliaments would not succeed in drafting a successful scheme.

Another amendment to the bill was adopted placing upon the southern parliament the responsibility for providing funds for Irish universities.

Must Take Oath of Allegiance.

The government's early proposal that all candidates for election to the Irish parliaments must take the oath of allegiance before being nominated has provoked much severe criticism from Irishmen and the liberals than any other provision of the bill has been quietly dropped and today the government moved the new clause to replace it and provide for the case of either Irish parliament not being properly constituted.

The new clause provides that if the number of members validly elected to either parliament is less than the first election is less than half the total membership or if the number who have taken the oath of allegiance within four days from the date parliament is summoned is less than half, the king may, by an order-in-council dissolve, such parliament and place the functions of the government in the hands of a committee nominated by the lord lieutenant pending the summoning of a new parliament.

Lord Huxh Cecil criticised the clause as the greatest legislative absurdity ever suggested. Mr. Asquith said the clause forcibly illustrated the farcical character of the southern parliament. The contingency contemplated, he asserted, was certain to arise in Southern Ireland, which then would be reduced to the condition of the most backward of the crown colonies.

This clause was carried by 137 to 11.

RESOLUTION TO LIMIT DEBATES IN CONVENTION

Six Days a Week Program
Will be Effective

WORKING TIME
GROWING SHORT

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 8.—A rule proposing a ten minute time limit to all debate in the constitutional convention and its committee of the whole was adopted by the rules committee this afternoon. The rule will be acted upon by the convention tomorrow morning.

An exception to the rule is recommended in the case of committee chairman and movers of motions. This move by the rules committee together with indication tonight that the "six day a week" program will be put into effect gave proof that for the time at least adjournment talk has been discontinued.

There remains but little more than one month's actual working time for the convention. Its session must end before the general assembly convenes in January as the call provides it must meet in representative hall. Before that time two more recesses, Thanksgiving and Christmas will be encountered. Besides setting a time limit for debate the committee on rules and procedure adopted the following order of business for tomorrow:

Report of the committee on revenue, taxation and finance will be heard first, then the committees on initiative, referendum and recall; judicial department and Chicago and Cook county.

BOLSHEVIKI MAKE EFFORTS TO SEND AGITATORS HERE

CHANGE PASSPORT
REGULATIONS

ROTTERDAM, Nov. 8.—Determined efforts are being made by agents of the Russian Bolshevik government to send missionaries and agitators to the United States according to evidence collected by American diplomatic officials in Europe. The spy and courier system of the Moscow government is said to surpass in efficiency and extent that of the German general staff before the outbreak of the great war and on the lists of several secret agents are said to be the names of many men who before 1914 acted as spies for the central powers or Russia.

Against this campaign, the United States arrayed its agents and officials at foreign ports. Associated with them in Holland are the Dutch police who have in their possession documents showing that Lenin, the Soviet leader look to the formation of a world clearing house for soviet finance and propaganda.

Bolsheviks Are Indexed.

Huge index files have been filed with the names and record of the upwards of 25,000 Bolshevik "missionaries" and these files have been placed in virtually every American embassy, legation and consulate in Europe. New passport regulations have been formulated and difficulties awaits the Bolshevik agitators attempts to secure a visa from a representation.

Despite these regulations and the constant vigilance of American officials it is believed some Bolshevik agents in the recent past have succeeded in finding means to cross the ocean.

An attack of an American consulate recently was offered the equivalent of $25 a day if he would assist in getting thru to the United States six soviet agitators daily. Swards of liners are declared to have yielded to alluring offers for hiding Bolshevik agents on their vessels.

Forty thousand died up to the end of 1918, they declared, and the number who had perished since then was unknown. Owing to the frozen ground it was impossible to bury the dead during the winter, according to the Austrians and naked bodies were stacked like logs outside the huts they had occupied, remaining there until spring.

MAJOR LEAGUE CLUBS SPLIT ON THE LASKER ORGANIZATION PLAN

Eleven Clubs Plan for a
Twelve Club
League

FIVE STICK TO BAN JOHNSON

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—The major league clubs today were broken up and a new twelve club league composed of the eight national league clubs and the three from the American League which have sided with them in the plans for re-organization of the game was organized. A twelfth member will be chosen later, it was announced.

Organization of the new league came after the five American League clubs had refused to reply to an ultimatum issued by the other eleven clubs giving them an hour and a half to join in the reorganization.

After organizing the new league the baseball magnates proceeded with the Lasker plan for civilian control of professional baseball and appointed Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, of Chicago, chairman of the tribunal that will govern the same.

To Be Supreme Director.

Judge Landis, if he accepts the position, will be the supreme dictator of all leagues joining the plan will receive a salary of $50,000 a year.

Second and third members of the tribunal will be appointed later and one of them will be chosen by the minor leagues. Representatives of the new league left tonight for Kansas City where the National Association of Minor Leagues meets tomorrow, to present the proposition to them. The minor league members would serve for six years while Judge Landis would be given a contract for seven years according to a statement made after the meeting by the club owners.

Judge Landis was notified of his appointment by a committee of five members and told them he would take the matter under advisement and make known his decision within a few days.

The plans for the new league and a new controlling body contain frequent reference to the minor leagues which are given assurance that they will not be overlooked in the administration of the game and that their territory will not be invaded in selecting the twelfth member of the new league.

The action came after an all-day session of both factions in the re-organization plans with neither side yielding to the other. Commissioners from the Johnson camp conferred with the club owners at the joint session of eight national and three American league clubs, but without results.

At 2:30 P. M. the joint session issued an ultimatum to the Johnson clubs telling them that they could either come over and take part in the meeting, which would be governed by a majority vote, or a new league would be formed. Failing to hear from the five American league clubs, the other eleven clubs went ahead with their announced plans.

Five Clubs Support Johnson.

The five clubs which stood by Johnson in the fight are Detroit, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Washington and St. Louis.

Tonight they maintained that the new league would have no effect on them.

"We are the majority of the American League and consequently, are the American League," Clark Griffith, of the Washington club said. "The American League will operate this year with or without the Chicago, New York and Boston clubs."

The new league will give New York, Chicago and Boston two clubs in the same league. Brooklyn also is included, giving Greater New York three representatives. The other members were Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, (National), Philadelphia, (National) and the twelfth member yet to be chosen.

Previous to today's action, members of Johnson's "solid five" had declared that the three American League clubs would not be able to take their players on a club belonged to the league under contracts previously made.

This factor they said would give the five remaining American League Clubs additional strength and enable them to proceed with organization of a new American League. Individual club owners said they would fight to the last court before allowing any player to be taken over by the new league.

ATTORNEY GENERAL NEAR FELONY SAYS JUDGE ANDERSON

Court

WILL PROCEED WITH CONSPIRACY CASES

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 8.—Attorney General Palmer's open denials limiting the government's evidence to be used in the soft coal conspiracy case against operators and miners in Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, was criticised by Federal Judge Anderson in the United States district court today as being "strangely close to the compounding of a felony," and also "dangerously near contempt of court."

Trials of the cases, was scheduled to begin today but the government counsel said it was not ready to proceed. Before granting the continuance asked by the government counsel, Judge Anderson undertook an investigation of the attorney general's conduct regarding the cases ending with his criticism of Mr. Palmer's conduct.

Trials Called for January.

The court set next January as the date for calling the trials again and warning that the "mean time will give us time to get our bearings and at least find out whether we are to govern by law or by power."

The attorney general was not present at the meeting but C. B. Ames, former assistant to Mr. Palmer, explained that Mr. Palmer's conduct came after hearing most of the testimony the court leading up to his assertion with a series of questions as to whether the attorney general had authority to agree not to use certain evidence.

"It is strangely near to the compounding of a felony," said Judge Anderson in this connection. "I am not saying it is. I am saying it is strangely near it."

Similarly the judge discussed elements constituting contempt of court, his purpose being, he said, to "show how dangerous

Mr. Wilson is working on his final message to congress. Since the "solemn referendum" has already been recorded by the people, it is not likely that he will devote much space to the discussion of the league of nations. Secretary Tumulty recently said that the president is not a quitter and that he will never give up, but even he must realize the futility of league of nations discussion now.

Republicans everywhere realize that the tremendous majorities given in the recent election bring unusual responsibilities and expectations. To meet these expectations.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

—Iron Dollar.

In olden days, with one round dollar how much good fodder I could buy! And then I'd stand around and holler because the prices were so high! I used to seek the corner grocer, and fill my basket with his junk, and he would say, "I'd have you know, sir, that all this costs you but a plunk." And to the butcher I would toddle, and buy a soupbone for a dime, and merrily my wife would yodel as she brewed corned beef and cabbage. And at the urban haberdasher's a dollar bought a gaudy shirt; and I could buy potato mashers and other hardware cheap as dirt. Oh, happy days, when one round dollar would buy a wagonload of truck! And now I know of nothing smaller, when I go shopping, than a buck. And in those days that I'm regretting, when dollars cut all kinds of ice, I knew the depths of grief and fretting when I bought things and paid the price. I often wring my hands and wonder what made me rear and paw and roar, when I would buy a ton of plunder for ninety cents, or two cents more. Such times, I fear, are gone forever, but if by luck they should come nigh, I'll surely make a brave endeavor to bless the merchant when I buy.

MISSION CLOSED

AT ALEXANDER

Father McNulty heard in Splendid Series of Addresses at Catholic Church.

Alexander, Nov. 8.—The mission which has been conducted at the Church of the Visitation for the past week closed Sunday evening. The mission was in charge of M. F. McNulty, Jesuit Father of Chicago, one of the most renowned ministers of the Jesuit order. Father McNulty has conducted missions in about thirty-six states of the union, and the people of Alexander were fortunate in having the opportunity to hear him. He is able to talk to any man, no matter of what station in life he may be, from the humblest to the most learned, and there is no topic concerning the welfare of mankind but which Father McNulty is able to discuss with both learning and discretion. A local resident said of Father McNulty: "I have never been enlightened had they talked to him on the political issues of today. On account of his extensive travel, he knows the conditions of the working classes and the wealthy people, and more than all, the needs of the people. While Father McNulty was not here to give political instruction in any way, those who have seen him know more of the social conditions of the present day than they ever knew before."

THINK DRECO CAN NOT BE EXCELLED

For Bad Headaches, Kidney Trouble, Torpid Liver, Disordered Stomach and Constipation.

Sleep Was Broken by Having to Get up Frequently to Relieve Kidneys.

"I can recommend Dreco very highly, for it has helped me and my wife. I had a bad case of kidney trouble and didn't know what it was to sleep the night through for I had to get up so often to relieve my kidneys and when morning came I was so tired and worn out as though I hadn't gone to bed," said Mr. John W. Wensing, who is employed as pressman by the Keystone Steel & Wire Co., and lives at 420 McKinley Ave., Bartonville, Ill., 5 miles from Peoria.

"My head ached and thumped until I felt like I couldn't stand it. Liver was lazy and I was so full of bile that it would rise in my throat and had a very bitter taste. I was often dizzy and didn't feel like eating for everything disagreed with me and turned to sour gas. My wife was all run-down and needed a good tonic and she says it is the best medicine she has ever taken."

"Dreco has brought about a great improvement in both of us and we are only too glad to recommend it."

Every day we are publishing statements from well known and reliable people who have actually taken Dreco and claim splendid results. Is there anything more honest or convincing than what your own townspeople say about Dreco?

All druggists now sell Dreco and it is being especially introduced in Jacksonville by Coover Drug Co.—Adv.

Mr. Wilson is working on his final message to congress. Since the "solemn referendum" has already been recorded by the people, it is not likely that he will devote much space to the discussion of the league of nations. Secretary Tumulty recently said that the president is not a quitter and that he will never give up, but even he must realize the futility of league of nations discussion now.

Republicans everywhere realize that the tremendous majorities given in the recent election bring unusual responsibilities and expectations. To meet these expectations, they must first of all be able to do what they have promised to do.

tion, to satisfy the feeling of unrest and in some measure to allay widespread dissatisfaction, is a huge task. But the very fact that the G. O. P. realizes the situation means that there will be unusual effort on the part of the administration to meet the conditions, and solve the big questions for the benefit of all.

THE END OF DELAY

Domestic problems, long neglected by congress while it was engaged in defending the country from the foreign league menace, will now receive the attention they deserve. Internal reconstruction, which should have been started immediately after the armistice over two years ago, may now be taken up to the exclusion of external affairs in which we have but a minor interest. Although two years delayed, Republican co-operation between executive and legislative branches of the government still has an opportunity to retrieve much of the disaster brought by war.

THE RED CROSS ROLL CALL

The Red Cross will begin the fourth annual roll call immediately following armistice day. Organization for the local work is being rapidly perfected and the campaign is expected to be in full swing within a few days' time. Recent months have demonstrated that there are real problems of peace, just as there are of war. The Red Cross peace program has presented a coherent plan for solving some of these troublesome matters. In the further days of the reconstruction period there is greater need for the Red Cross organization, and there is within it a power and an influence which will be extremely helpful. The roll call should have the county wide support that it merits.

EFFICIENCY RESTORED

Critics of the Esch-Cummins Transportation Act of 1920 have been loud in their condemnation of that measure. One New York paper, in a recent editorial said that it "will cost the American people before it is repealed thousands of millions of dollars." Even Mr. Hines, former Federal Director General of Railroads, prophesied that a dollar a day would be added to the cost of living of the average family. If there are 20,000,000 families in the United States that would mean an added tax of $7,300,000,000 each year.

The law has been in force about eight months, and the country is beginning to feel the effects of operating the railroads once more by their private owners. What has been the result? Not only have the dire forebodings of the enemies of the legislation fallen flat, but instead of a big increase in the cost of living there has been a marked decrease, which is destined to continue for some time to come. The total cost to the Government of the entire period of federal control was about $1,500,000,000, every dol-

MISSION CLOSED AT ALEXANDER

Father McNulty Began in Splendid Series of Addresses at Catholic Church.

Alexander, Nov. 8.—The mission which has been conducted at the Church of the Visitation for the past week closed Sunday evening. The mission was in charge of M. F. McNulty, Jesuit Father, of Chicago, one of the most renowned ministers of the Jesuit order. Father McNulty has conducted missions in about thirty states of the union, and the people of Alexander were fortunate in having the opportunity to hear him. He is able to talk to any man, no matter of what station in life he may be, from the humblest to the most learned, and there is no topic concerning the welfare of mankind but which Father McNulty is able to discuss with both learning and discretion. A local resident said of Father McNulty: "Many would have been enlightened had they talked to him on the political issues of today. On account of his extensive travel, he knows the conditions of the working classes and the wealthy people, and more than all, the needs of the people. While Father McNulty was not here to give political instruction in any way, those who have seen him know more of the social conditions of the present day than they ever knew before."

Iron Dollar.

In olden days, with one round dollar how much good fodder I could buy! And then I'd stand around and holler because the prices were so high! I used to seek the corner grocer, and fill my basket with his junk, and he would say, "I'd have you know, sir, that all this costs you but a plunk." And to the butcher I would toddle, and buy a soupbone for a dime, and merrily my wife would yodel as she brewed consomme sublime. And at the hardware store, when one round dollar would buy a wagonload of truck! And now I know of nothing smaller, when I go shopping, than a buck. And in those days that I'm regretting, when dollars cut all kinds of ice, I knew the depths of grief and fretting when I bought things and paid the price. I often wring my hands and wonder what made me rear and paw and roar, when I would buy a ton of plunder for ninety cents, or two cents more. Such times, I fear, are gone forever, but if by luck they should come nigh, I'll surely make a brave endeavor to bless the merchant when I buy.

Richmond.

The funeral of Mrs. Lurinda Richmond was held at Chapin Monday afternoon at two o'clock. Mrs. Richmond died at St. Mary's hospital in Galesburg, Nov. 5, at the age of 42 years, 2 months and 8 days. She also leaves an aged mother, Mrs. John Sargent, two sisters living in Galesburg, Mrs. C. E. Simms and Mrs. Mary Reed; three brothers, John Sargent, Burlington, Iowa; Albert Sargent and James Sargent of Kewanee. Her father, two sisters and two brothers preceded her in death. The body was brought to Chapin Sunday afternoon and taken to the home of her sister, Mrs. H. L. Bridgman, where the funeral was held with the Rev. C. G. Cantrell officiating. ARMISTICE DAY PROCLAMATION

Along with patriotic people the country over, the residents of Jacksonville will join in the observance of Armistice day Thursday, Nov. 11. That day is now notable in the history of the world, and it is fitting indeed that there should be due recognition here in this city. The spontaneous celebration of two years ago, when the signing of the armistice meant the close of a bloody conflict in which Morgan county lads were engaged, is a matter of easy memory. The same joyous enthusiasm may not characterize the observance of next Thursday, but there should and will be a genuine thankfulness in the hearts of all as they look back and consider the events which Armistice day brought to a close. As mayor of the city it becomes my duty to call special attention to the program as arranged for next Thursday by the loyal and patriotic women of Jacksonville, and to suggest to citizens that their places of business be closed during the afternoon hours of the Armistice day program.

Sleep Was Broken by Having to Get up Frequently to Relieve Kidneys.

"I can recommend Dreco very highly, for it has helped me and my wife. I had a bad case of kidney trouble and didn't know what it was to sleep the night through for I had to get up so often to relieve my kidneys and when morning came I was so tired and worn out as though I hadn't gone to bed," said Mr. John W. Wensing, who is employed as pressman by the Keystone Steel & Wire Co., and lives at 420 McKinley Ave., Bartonville, Ill., 5 miles from Peoria.

"My head ached and thumped until I felt like I couldn't stand it, liver was lazy and I was so full of bile that it would rise in my throat and had a very bitter taste. I was often dizzy and didn't feel like eating for everything disagreed with me and turned to sour gas. My wife was all run-down and needed a good tonic and she says it is the best medicine she has ever taken.

"Dreco has brought about a great improvement in both of us and we are only too glad to recommend it."

Every day we are publishing statements from well known and reliable people who have actually taken Dreco and claim splendid results. Is there anything more honest or convincing than what your own townspeople say about Dreco?

All druggists now sell Dreco and it is being especially introduced in Jacksonville by Coover Drug Co.—Adv.

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister.

Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and colics of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chills, cold feet—cold of the chest (it cures and prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 10c and 25c

TWO MEN BADLY BURNED BY STEAM

Thomas Doyle and John Shields Injured When Pipe at High School Building Burst.

As the result of an explosion of a steam pipe at the Jacksonville high school Monday afternoon, Thomas Doyle and John Shields, Jr., were injured. The men were hurried to Our Savior's hospital and were attended by Dr. Edward Bowe. Mr. Doyle's condition is serious, as he was badly burned all over his body. The injuries of his companion are less serious, altho he, too, was painfully burned.

The accident happened in the basement of the new high school building just at the south end of the tunnel which runs from the building to the David Prince building and thence to the heating plant.

Just what caused the accident has not yet been determined, altho Mr. Doyle stated his belief that the strong pressure had blown off a valve. Another theory was that a cap which the men had recently placed on the end of one of the pipes was blown off by the pressure. The explosion caused a general alarm among the workmen in the building and several who were near Messrs. Doyle and Shields narrowly escaped burning by the steam.

GREAT AUDIENCES AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Find Inspiration in Sermon by Evangelist Violette — "The Fool's Religion the Theme for Tonight."

The Central Christian church was the center of interest for two great gatherings on Sunday. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the building was well filled at the morning services. At night the large auditorium and annex were crowded to capacity to hear Dr. E. E. Violette, who is in charge of the special meeting now in progress.

Dr. Violette spoke at the morning hour on "The Parable of the Sower." The message was introduced with a graphic portrayal of the life of the farmer in Palestine. "Crist took the thing at hand in His day and made it immortal by touching the human heart of all days and all ages with it," the speaker said. "No wonder then, that this simple parable is made to apply to the great fact of hearing the gospel and the greater fact of the hearer's condition of mind and heart, once the gospel is heard."

He described "the wayside heart" as the "misunderstanding heart," the "stony heart," the "thorny heart" as the one that "crowds God out;" and the "good ground" was pictured as the "good heart." It was a new and striking exposition of an old and familiar Bible story.

At night Dr. Violette delivered one of his most eloquent and forceful sermons on "The Golden Text of the Bible—John 3:16." There were ten additions to the church at the two services Sunday.

Also raining last night, a good sized audience assembled. In addition to the regular solo by Prof. Pellock, Mr. J. W. Seniff, who came over from Barry, sang a gospel song.

Dr. Violette spoke on "What Is a Christian?" after reading from memory, the twenty-sixth chapter of Acts. Two united with the church at the close of the sermon.

"The Fool's Religion" is announced as Dr. Violette's subject tonight. The Bible reading will be from the twelfth chapter of Luke.

One automobile smashed beyond repair and another considerably damaged was the result of a smash up which occurred on North Main street across from the Cigar Box factory about 11 o'clock Monday morning.

The accident happened when a street car going north hit an Overland car with such force that the auto was smashed up and thrown against a Buick standing near the curb. Eye witnesses of the accident state that the smash was terrific and heard for blocks.

The street car, in charge of Motorman Harmon, was north bound, when after passing Independence avenue came upon an automobile driven in the same direction by E. F. Johnston and which, according to witnesses of the accident, was running close to the track. A short distance in front of Mr. Johnston was another car belonging to Charles Seymour, a contractor, who was engaged in repair work on a house nearby.

Witnesses state that the car, which was going at full speed until just a few seconds before the smash occurred, struck the Johnston car just as it was turning out to pass the Seymour car and hit it a slanting blow, knocking it into the Seymour car and locking the two together, dragging them both for some distance.

Mr. Johnston received slight bruises as a result of the accident, but was not kept from his work, which was very fortunate for him as it was a narrow escape from serious injury.

As stated above, both cars were damaged by the smash, although one much more than the other. The street car was not damaged at all and kept in service. It is doubtful if any attempt will be made to repair the Johnston car, as it appeared badly damaged all over. The auto belonging to Mr. Seymour, however, can be fixed for running conditions again, although it suffered a bent axle, a broken spring, splintered spokes on nearly all wheels and smashed fenders and running board.

VETERANS ARE LAUDED FOR WORK WELL DONE

Monument to Heroic Living and Dead Unveiled

Imposing Ceremonial Held Monday in Centenary Church—Notable Address by Ex-Governor Yates—Local Men Also Paid Tribute to Soldiers of the Sixties.

With imposing ceremonies the Morgan county monument to heroes of the war of the Rebellion was dedicated Monday afternoon. Unfavorable weather made it necessary to abandon the original plan for the ceremonial in Central park, with the attendant unveiling of the monument, and instead the program was carried out at Centenary church. There S. W. Nichols as president of the Monument Association, presided. The main address of the day was by Congressman Richard Yates, Dr. C. H. Rammelkamp made a statement in behalf of the Monument Association, while Horace H. Bancroft, representing Commander Wiggins of Matt Starr post, made the response for the veterans. The response for the veterans was by Judge H. P. Samuel.

The audience was led in singing by Rev. W. E. Collins. The pulpit was adorned with flags and on either side were portraits of generals famous in the days of '61. It was an intensely patriotic occasion and the addresses were a most fitting kind. Mr. Nichols as chairman of the occasion, made a brief reference to the history of the monument movement and expressed the appreciation of the old soldiers for the interest the public has continually manifested in the monument project. He then presented Mrs. Nellie McDougall James, Mrs. Myrtle McCalla Freeman and Miss Helen Paschall as members of the immediate family of old soldiers prominently identified with the work which made the monument possible.

"America" was sung and Chaplain Ezra Scott of Matt Starr post offered prayer.

A Landmark in History

Dr. C. H. Rammelkamp spoke on behalf of the county board and the Monument Association. He said, among other things: "We have met this afternoon to honor the men and women who saved the union and abolished slavery. The Civil War, I need hardly remind you, is one of the great landmarks in the history of the U. S., and of the world. I am thinking of course, not only of the military operations of the war, but of every thing for which that war stands in history—of the years of struggle, long before 1861, in the halls of congress and among the people, of the loyalty and bravery, the sacrifice and suffering of the terrible four years and of the tremendous issues involved; of the great leaders, who in both civil and military life, fought for the principles which triumphed at Appomattox. I am thinking of the great waves of influence radiating from Appomattox to the uttermost parts of the earth. Not only was our union saved, and our own slaves freed, but the cause of democratic government and freedom was strengthened throughout the world.

"Morgan county and Jacksonville had a great part in that great epoch, and I am sure that as the people of today look upon that monument, that hearts will beat a little faster, they will be a little more patriotic, more courageous, more unselfish, and, incidentally, better Americans.

"Aside from these facts, the monument means much to our community. It is a great work of art and it adds beauty and distinction to our square and to the whole city.

Regret for the Absent
"It is indeed a pleasure and privilege on behalf of the commissioners of Morgan county to present this monument to the Grand Army of the Republic and to the citizens of the county. As the movement for the monument progressed, there were some misunderstandings, but all these were cleared away and are now forgotten. Today we have but one regret—that Major McDougall, Capt. Swales, Capt. Wright, Judge Grear and Hassel Hopper, who were identified with the association work, did not live to see the realization of their plans. But we are glad that the many other veterans are still with us."

"So, Mr. Chairman, we hope we have added something noteworthy to the uplifting influences working upon the minds and hearts of our people. We hope that strong granite figure of Patriotism, on the east side of the monument, answering the call to arms, may strengthen us to answer every call to patriotic duty. We hope that fine figure of Sacrifice, on the west, offering her choicest gifts to the great cause, may inspire us to sacrifice on the altar of our country. We hope that stately, beautiful figure of Columbia, crowning all and gazing in the direction in which the boys of '61 marched, typifying the spirit of America, may call us all to a better, nobler citizenship than we have ever known."

"Again on behalf of the commissioners of Morgan county, I present this monument to the citizens who gave it, and to the men and women whose memory it will perpetuate."

Chairman Nichols at this point made mention that the association was greatly obligated to Commissioners Wheeler and Wyatt for many courtesies extended to them in past months. The chairman announced that Horace H. Bancroft, representing Commander Wiggins of Matt Starr post, would make response for the veterans. Mr. Bancroft made a most appropriate address, which gave evidence of his own fine patriotism and admiration for the heroes of the war. He said in part:

"A Great Responsibility
"I am privileged to stand in your presence this afternoon in response to the request of the small remaining membership of Matt Starr post, that organization of union veterans that have been the life blood of this community for the last fifty years.

"I feel deeply the responsibility for my utterance because I must speak in behalf of the dead as well as the living and I know full well that were it not for the fact that some who were most active in this enterprise at its inception have been called in very recent months to join the silent majority yonder, another more worthy than I would now address you.

"War is a dreadful thing, but we cannot escape the solemn fact of history that civilization has made its progress thru the struggles of men on the field of battle. "The union cause represented a great crisis in our national life and the defenders of that cause were contributors to a new and a better day in American history. They served, they sacrificed, they died that the Union might not be dissolved and victory came at last. For many of the survivors of the internecine struggle the days of health, of happiness and prosperity have been many, and we rejoice that it has been so.

"Gratitude to the veterans of the Civil War has found expression in various ways and at various times and today far removed from the time of the conflict and from its pain and its passion the present generation of Morgan county takes occasion to add its testimonial of appreciation. This magnificent and expressive monument of granite and bronze stands forth in splendid grandeur, a tribute to heroes living and dead.

"With somewhat faltering step but with unflinching faith in God, in country and in their fellow citizens the surviving soldiers of the sixties accept this monument erected to their memory in the true spirit of patriotism. When the last taps shall be sounded and the final salute fired for the last surviving veteran of the civil war, this emblem will remain a token of regard and unending devotion for a glorious company who fought a glorious fight."

An Expression of Gratitude
"The veterans of today and yesterday accept this monument as the visible and enduring expression of community gratitude and affection. Here in solemn grandeur it will ever stand significant of a world of memories, a world of deeds, a world of tears and a world of glories."

"Who but the Searcher of all hearts and the Author of all wisdom can know the full measure of devotion given to this enterprise by Major McDougall and Captain Swales. Patience, perseverance, faith and courage animated them in all their efforts toward successful accomplishment. They are not here today but surely their works do follow them."

"Here this monument will forever stand, magnificent, beautiful, rich in artistic expression, the embodiment of the gratitude of a truly grateful people."

The response for the public was made by Judge H. P. Samuel, who eloquently expressed the appreciation of the public for the beautiful monument of granite and bronze and for the task performed by the veterans.

Honor to the Private

He said, in part: "Morgan county occupies a proud place in the history of Illinois. Her patriotism, her pioneer work in education and the preferred place given to the development of religious life and institutions have helped make this good name. That history shows the love of country manifested in war times, and you are all familiar with the noble and progressive spirit shown by the citizens of this county in times of peace. All these characteristics are milestones which time cannot efface."

"Morgan county can claim many brilliant men and finds credit in consideration of their names, but the monument that the people of this county have erected gives credit not only to the brilliant leaders but to the private in the ranks—those men who went to war because of their belief in the righteousness of the cause—these men who laid down their lives that the nation might exist."

"So Morgan county accepts this monument as a book mark in the history of the county. It is the people of today and other days, living under the traditions of noble men who preserved liberty and freedom, may so continue to live that when we have passed that we may receive that commendation of our good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of the kingdom."

The principal address of the occasion was delivered by Congressman Richard Yates. It was indeed fitting that the son of Illinois' great "war governor" should be chosen as the orator for this occasion, and the veteran's rightly counted themselves fortunate in his presence. Mr. Yates in Centenary church was standing upon historic ground, for it was there that as a child and youth, he attended Sunday school and church services and the old edifice holds for him many hallowed memories.

In his opening remarks the speaker made personal reference to his father and related several incidents to show the impression made upon him as a lad by war events, and to indicate to the stress in which the war governor lived as the soldiers of Illinois took their heroic part upon the battlefield. The part that Gov. Yates had in the stirring events of those days is a matter of history, one of the proud pages in the records of the state, and reference to personal incidents had a very proper place in the introductory remarks of the speaker.

Mr. Yates, rightly known as an orator of fine ability, was at his best yesterday. He said, in part:

The "Great Rebellion."
Fellow citizens, I was reserved for one opportunity—1861-1865—to develop so much havoc of life, to tear such gaps in the ranks of manhood, to harrow so many homes with heartbreak, and to create so much of courage and patriotism and of zeal as to contribute the main interest to this day and occasion. For this hour the thoughtful elders of this nation live again in the tumultuous times of 1861, typified by this monument.

Visions of fast-rushing events rise today in the mind of the elderly man. He remembers the preliminary excitement. The country convulsed from day to day by ominous occurrences. This state trembling beneath the mighty blows struck by renowned champions of public opinion. Every community stirred to its foundations in the mighty crisis. Abraham Lincoln said: "I turn to look for help to the great American people, and to the God who has never forsaken them."

The Grandest Victory

Ladies and gentlemen, you and I know that Abraham Lincoln received the help that he prayed for; received it from 20,000,000 loyal hearts and from the Infinite Power on high. Abraham Lincoln put one hand into the outstretched palm of the American people. With the other he laid a strong hold on the almighty arm of the Almighty God. And standing there, supported by humanity and supported by Divinity, he fought the grandest fight and hour the grandest victory the human race has ever seen since the Savior walked amid the sons of men.

But meanwhile the crash comes. A rebel congress assembled. Confederates armies and legislatures are formed and fire is opened upon and against that devoted place, Fort Sumter. The patience of the Union's friends can stand no more. The forbearance of even the chief magistrate is exhausted. Sorrowfully he turns from the despairing presence of the angel of peace and reluctantly beckons to the majestic spirit of war. The peaceful people realize that the struggle for the preservation of the Union has become a summer struggle. Every city and county tenders its company, every district its regiment, every state its batteries. A hundred thousand freemen stand in serried ranks within a fortnight and all doubts are allayed, the safety of the nation and the protection of the government is assured. The president, encouraged, telegraphs to the governor of Illinois, who is urging him to accept still more men. "Hold still, Dick, and see the salvation of the Lord."

Christendom stands astounded at the valor of the struggle and the spirit of the combatants. Educated to believe that its prosperity depends upon slavery, the gallant south rushes to the front to fight against fancied wrong. Convinced by training, tradition, and theology, the north earnestly arms for the first time.

Noble men of sixty-one Stephen A. Douglas stands in Chicago saying: "Before God, my conscience is clear. I have struggled long for a peaceful solution; the return we receive is war; there are only two sides to this question; there can be no neutral in this war—only patriots or traitors."

All honor to Stephen A. Douglas. But for him we would have had civil war in Illinois from Cairo north to the doorsteps of Springfield. He put 500,000 men into the Union army, and 50,000 from Illinois alone. Peace to his ashes; green be his memory, and all honor to every Douglas follower in that critical hour. They turned the tide. They held the balance of power. They are entitled to honorable mention—every one.

"With malice toward none and charity for all," call after call comes from the capital for troops. The call is not in vain. Massachusetts sends her noblest, New York puts forth her proudest, Ohio furnishes her bravest, California dispatches her boldest, Illinois forwards her best—Grierson, Ingersoll, Prentiss and Rawlins; Morrison, McClernagh, Palmer and Black; Sullivan; Singleton and Lippincott and Mat Stark.

And here come all the heroes: Oglesby goes; Grant goes; Logan goes; Howard and Hancock, Sheridan and Sherman; Slocum, Sickles, Sigel and Wadsworth; Hooker and Burnside; Thomas and Franklin; hundreds more whose names we know; thousands more whose names are to us unknown; the whole grand heroic host. Mighty convulsion! The entire continent rocking to and fro! The battle cry of freedom ringing from ocean to ocean! Outposts of loyalty shaking every northern commonwealth! Puritan and pioneer burning with patriotic zeal! "Government of, for, and by the people shall not perish."

Woman's Sacrifice.
And, ah, let us not forget that there was a parting in a million homes. How often that parting was a parting forever, between sweet heart and lover, between sister and brother, between husband and wife, and between son and mother. Oh, for scarlet geraniums and sweet verbenas and purple violets to strew the graves of the lover and brother! Oh, for pure white jessamine and yellow buttercup and delicate heliotrope so to cover those of the sister and sweetheart, as fully and fittingly express the agony of that parting, the pitiful but unpitied throes of the battle death, and the untold suffering of those ruined loving lives.

Home, Oh, for begonia and petunia and hyacinth and fuchsia and lily and rose for the mother and the wife whose son and husband went, then, from their embraces away! First, to the city; further on to the camp; and, at last, to the nameless mound near the enemy's prison stockade. Sublime sacrifices, glorious and grand, tender and touching, beautiful and blessed. The fragrance of their memory hovers over us today like a benediction from the past. Rest on, embalmed and sainted dead. Dear as the blood we gave. No impious footsteps here shall tread. The heritage of your grave. When the complete history of the rebellion shall be finished, then will appear among the names, never to be forgotten, those of a bright company, the Morgan county women, who worked and wrought wonderfully throughout the rebellion.

I entertain the profound conviction that their action for their state and nation have given us all a new birth of freedom and that their grand example will in every hour of need be emulated by the sons of America, though the warlike power of the known world be embattled against her, through all the momentous future.

Tomorrow to Come.
To such old soldiers as may be present today let me, in conclusion, say a word in behalf of "young America." In a sense we, like you, are at war. The contest is on with us. Hostile batteries are booming on every side. The foes are ignorance and avarice and intemperance and vice. After ignorance is vanquished and labor's rights prevail, we must always at every point along our way, and our progress, meet back vice and crime and fight them desperately with every method at every step. The young generation appeals to you for part of their needed counsel and guidance. Be to them their council of administration. Divide with them the store of your wisdom, your prudence, and your calm, clear judgment. You can help. Your outposts and your sons are in every place of prestige and of power. There are tomorrow's to come for you as well as for us. There is a vast room yet for the use of your splendid activities. You will yet be with us at least 20 years. Would it could be a hundred. Let us all together, as a people, make them 20 years of victory and progress and prosperity and righteous unexampled, so that our nation shall be a national Union of American States, far in grandeur and in glory beyond any of our fondest anticipations in this day of constant struggle and the hour of anxious combat.

Conclusion

We are now about to close this wonderful afternoon which we have had together. As we do, and as we depart from this holy ground to address and devote ourselves to the work of life, let us not fail to realize what a privilege it is to our Nation, that the Nation has such places as this (and such men as have been talked about today) to inspire it, as it turns from this day forward to the great task remaining before it. This closes a mighty period and epoch.

In 1837—not 1857 or 1847, but 1837—Abraham Lincoln one day said: "From 1777 to 1837—60 long years—the nation has thrived and grown greater in the visible presence of the surviving heroes and heroines of the revolution, the very sight of them inspiring us. But in 1837, these all are gone, with few exceptions, and the nation is closing the door upon the heroism of the past; and must now turn and face, without this inspiration, a future, which we can not know, and you can not know, and only God Himself can foretell."

Even so, it is with us, now, in 1920. For another 60 years—1860 to 1920—we of this day and generation have lived and thrived and grown in the presence of heroism—1861-1865. But the heroes of that time, the jaunty young heroes, and the maidens they adored, have been overtaken by the storms and snows of many winters; and they who, ere alight, head erect, soul on high, were the finest, smartest, snappiest soldiers ever seen at any time, in any clime, beneath the shining sun—they are gray today and a little bent, a little stooped, a little tired of the long and tedious march, almost ready to say, as the dying Stonewall Jackson said with a last breath:

"Let us cross over the river and lie down in the shade of the trees."

Very soon—very, very soon—we who are left will have to close the door and turn to the future without the inspiration we are getting here today. Let us kindly resolve that we, in our turn, will keep alive the flame of patriotism on the nation's altar, not forgetting this glorious sight we behold here today.

There are thousands of victims of rheumatism who dread the approach of damp, wintry weather, for it means to them a return of the pangs of Rheumatism.

HE FEELS BETTER THAN IN YEARS, SAYS FOWLER

Was All He Could Do to Drag Through a Day's Work Before He Began Taking Tanlac, Declares Vinton Citizen.

"After four years of suffering and misery Tanlac has brought me health and happiness and made a new man of me!" recently declared Winfield Scott Fowler, of 410 J. Avenue, Vinton, Iowa.

"I was in a terribly run-down condition," continued Mr. Fowler. "I had but little appetite and if I ate anything like cabbage or onions I would taste it for two or three days afterwards and suffer terribly with gas. My back hurt so that every time I stooped over the pain would almost make me cry out. My kidneys worried me so that I could get no rest at night. I lost weight right along, and finally became so weak that it was all I could do to drag through a day's work."

"But five bottles of Tanlac have changed all that, and I can now eat three good square meals a day and don't know what it is to suffer from indigestion afterwards. The pains have disappeared from my back and I get good sound restful sleep every night. I have already gained twelve pounds in weight and have so much more strength and energy that I can do a big day's work without getting tired. It's years since I felt as well as I do today, and the wonderful change in my health is entirely due to Tanlac. Anybody who suffers as I did couldn't do better than try Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Coover Drug Co. and J. F. Shreve, and by the leading drug store in every town.—Adv.

Monument to Heroic Living and Dead Unveiled

Imposing Ceremonial Held Monday in Centenary Church—Notable Address by Ex-Governor Yates—Local Men Also Paid Tribute to Soldiers of the Sixties.

With imposing ceremonies the Morgan county monument to heroes of the war of the Rebellion was dedicated Monday afternoon. Unfavorable weather made it necessary to abandon the original plan for the ceremonial in Central park, with the attendant unveiling of the monument, and instead the program was carried out at Centenary church. There S. W. Nichols as president of the Monument Association, presided. The main address of the day was by Congressman Richard Yates. Dr. C. H. Rammelkamp made a statement in behalf of the Monument Association, while Horace H. Bancroft, representing Commander Wiggin of Matt Starr post, made the response for the veterans. The response for the public was by Judge H. P. Samuel.

The audience was led in singing by Rev. W. E. Collins. The pulpit was adorned with flags and on either side were portraits of general famous in the days of '61. It was an intensely patriotic occasion and the addresses were of a most fitting kind. Mr. Nichols as chairman of the occasion, made brief reference to the history of the monument movement and expressed the appreciation of the old soldiers for the interest the public has continually manifested in the monument project. He then presented Mrs. Nellie McDougall James, Mrs. Myrtle Swales Freeman and Miss Helen Paschall as members of the immediate family of old soldiers prominently identified with the work which made the monument possible.

"America" was sung and Chaplain Ezra Scott of Matt Starr post offered prayer.

A Landmark in History
Dr. C. H. Rammelkamp spoke on behalf of the county board and the Monument Association. He said, among other things: "We have met this afternoon to honor the men and women who saved the union and abolished slavery. The Civil War, I need hardly remind you, is one of the great landmarks in the history of the U. S., and of the world. I am thinking of course, not only of the military operations of the war, but of everything for which that war stands in history—of the years of struggle, long before 1861, in the halls of congress and among the people, of the loyalty and bravery, the sacrifice and suffering of the terrible four years and of the tremendous issues involved; of the great leaders, who in both civil and military life, fought for the principles which triumphed at Appomattox. I am thinking of the great waves of influence radiating from Appomattox to the uttermost parts of the earth. Not only was our union saved, and our own slaves freed, but the cause of democratic government and freedom was strengthened throughout the world. "Morgan county and Jacksonville had a great part in that great epoch, and I am sure that as the people of today look upon that monument, that hearts will beat a little faster, they will be a little more patriotic, more courageous, more unselfish, and, incidentally, better Americans. "Aside from these facts, the monument means much to our Fellow citizens, it was reserved for one controversy—1861-1865—to develop so much havoc of life, to tear such gaps in the ranks of mankind, to heartbreak and to create so much of courage and patriotism and of zeal as to contribute the main interest to this day and occasion. For this hour the thoughtful elders of this nation live again in the tumultuous times of 1861, typified by this monument.

Visions of past-rising events rise today in the mind of the elderly many. He remembers the preliminary excitement. The country convulsed from day to day by ominous occurrences. This state trembling beneath the mighty blows struck by renowned champions of public opinion. Every community stirred to its focus in the midst of crisis.

Abraham Lincoln said: "I turn to look for help to the great American people and to that God who has never forsaken them." The "Greatest Victory."

Ladies and gentlemen, you and I know that Abraham Lincoln received the help that he prayed for; received it from 20,000,000 loyal hearts and from the Infinite Power by Major McDougall and Captain Swales. Patience, perseverance, faith and courage animated them in all their efforts toward successful accomplishment. They are not here today but surely their works do follow them.

"Here this monument will forever stand a magnificent, beautiful, rich in artistic expression, the embodiment of the gratitude of a truly grateful people." The response for the public was made by Judge H. P. Samuel, who eloquently expressed the appreciation of the public for the beautiful monument of granite and bronze and for the task performed by the veterans.

Honor to the Private
He said, in part: "Morgan county occupies a proud place in the history of Illinois. Her patriotism, her pioneer work in education and the preferred place given to the development of religious life and institutions have helped make this good name. That history shows the love of country of our earlier citizens, the heroism manifested in war times, and you are all familiar with the nobility and progressive spirit shown by the citizens of this county in times of peace. All these characteristics are milestones which time cannot efface."

"Morgan county can claim many brilliant men and finds credit in consideration of their names, but the monument that the people of this county have erected gives credit not only to the brilliant leaders but to the private in the ranks—those men who went to war because of their belief in the righteousness of the cause—these men who laid down their lives that the nation might exist."

"So Morgan county accepts this monument as a book mark in the leaves of time and hopes that the people of today and other days, living under the traditions of noble men who preserved liberty and freedom, may so continue to live that when we have passed that we may receive that commendation of 'Thou good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of the kingdom.'"

The principal address of the occasion was delivered by Congressman Richard Yates. It was indeed fitting that the son of Illinois' great "war governor" should be chosen as the orator for this occasion, and the veterans rightly counted themselves fortunate in his presence. Mr. Yates in Centenary church was standing upon historic ground, for it was there that as a child for youth, he attended Sunday school and church services and the old edifice holds for him many hallowed memories. In his opening remarks the speaker made personal reference to his father and related several incidents to show the impression made upon him as a lad by war events, and to indicate too the stress in which the war governor lived as the soldiers of Illinois took their heroic part upon the battlefield. The part that Gov. Yates had in the stirring events of those days is a matter of history, one of the proud pages in the records of the state, and reference to personal incidents had a very proper place in the introductory remarks of the speaker.

Mr. Yates, rightly known as an orator of fine ability, was at his best yesterday. He said, in part:

Better Than Pills For Liver Ills.
You can't feel so good but what NR will make you feel better.

Get a 25c. Box. Nature's Remedy is the only reliable, safe, and effective remedy for all liver troubles. It is a natural, pure, and powerful medicine, and it is the only one that will make you feel better.

And, ah, let us not forget that there was a meeting in million homes. How often that parting was a parting forever, between sweet heart and lover, between sister and brother, between husband and wife, and between son and mother. Oh, for scarlet geraniums and sweet verbenas and purple violets to strew the graves of the lover and brother! Oh, for pure white resomine and yellow buttercup and delicate heliotrope so to cover those of the sister and sweetheart, as fully and fittingly express the agony of that parting, the pitiful but unpitied throes of the battle death, and the untold suffering of those ruined loving lives at home. Oh, for begonia and petunia and hyacinth and fuchsia and lily and rose for the mother and the wife whose son and husband went, then, from their embraces, away: First, to the city; further on to the camp; and, at last, to the nameless mound near the enemy's prison stockade. Sublime sacrifices, glorious and grand, tender and touching, beautiful and blessed. The fragrance of their memory hovers over us today like a benediction from the past.

Rest on, embalmed and sainted dead. Dear as the flood ye gave, No impious footstep here shall tread, The heritage of your grave. When the complete history of the rebellion shall be finished, then will appear among the names, never to be forgotten, those of a bright company, the Morgan county women, who worked and wrought wonderfully throughout the rebellion.

I entertain the profound conviction that their services for their state and nation have given us all a new birth of freedom and that their grand example will in every hour of need be emulated by the sons of America, though the warlike power of the known world be embattled against her, through all the momentous future.

To-morrow's Come.
To such old soldiers as may be present today let me in conclusion say a word in behalf of "young America." In a sense we, like you, are at war. The contest is on with us. Hostile batteries are booming on every side. Enemies are now assailing us. The foes are ignorance and avarice and intemperance and vice. After ignorance is vanquished and labor's rights prevail over corporate avarice, we must establish temperance, and we must always at every point along our line and along our march press back vice and crime and fight them desperately with every method at every step. The young generation appeals to you for part of their needed counsel and guidance. Be to them their council of administration. Divide with them the store of your wisdom, your prudence, and your calm, clear judgment. You can help. Your outposts and your sons are in every place of prestige and of power. There are tomorrow's to be won for you as well as for us. There is a vast room yet for the use of your splendid activities. You will yet be with us at least 20 years. Would it could be a hundred. Let us all together, as a people, make them 20 years of victory and progress and prosperity and righteous humanity as supported by Divinity. For our part of the Union of American States, far in grandeur and in glory beyond any of fondest anticipations in this day of constant struggle and the hour of anxious combat.

Conclusion.
We are now about to close this wonderful afternoon which we have had together. As we do, and as we depart from this holy ground to address our devotees, let us not fail to realize what a privilege it is to our Nation, that the Nation has such places as this (and such men as have been talked about today) to inspire it, as it turns from this day forward to the great task remaining before it. This closes a mighty period and epoch.

In 1837—not 1857 or 1847, but 1837—Abraham Lincoln one day said:

"From 1777 to 1837—60 long years—the Nation has thrived and grown greater in the visible presence of the surviving heroes and heroines of the revolution, the very sight of them inspiring us. But now, in 1837, these all are gone, with few exceptions, and the nation is closing the door upon the heroism of the past; and must now turn and face, without this inspiration, a future, which we can not know, and you can not know, and only God Himself can foretell."

Even so, it is with us, now, in 1920. For another 60 years—1840 to 1920—of this day and generation have lived and thrived and grown in the presence of heroism—1861-1865. But the heroes of that time, the jaunty young heroes, and the maidens they adored, have been overtaken by the storms and snows of the winter; and they who, eye alight, head erect, soul on high, were the finest, smartest, swiftest soldiers ever seen at any time, in any clime, beneath the shining sun—they are gray today and a little bent, a little stooped, a little tired of the long and tedious march, almost ready to say, as the dying Stonewall Jackson said, with a last breath:

"Let us cross over the river and lie down in the shade of the trees." Very soon—very, very soon—who are left will have to close the door and turn to the future without the inspiration we are getting here today. Let us highly resolve that we, in our turn, will keep alive the flame of patriotism on the nation's altar, not forgetting this glorious sight we behold here today.

HE FEELS BETTER THAN IN YEARS, SAYS FOWLER

Was All He Could Do to Drag Through a Day's Work Before He Began Taking Tanlac, Declares Vinton Citizen.

"After four years of suffering and misery Tanlac has brought me health and happiness and made a new man of me," recently declared Winfield Scott Fowler, of 410 J. Avenue, Vinton, Iowa. "I was in terribly run-down condition," continued Mr. Fowler. "I had but little appetite and if I ate anything like cabbage or onions I would taste it for two or three days afterwards and suffer terribly with gas. My back hurt so that every time I stooped over the pain would almost make me cry out. My kidneys worried me so that I could get no rest at night. I lost weight right along, and finally became so weak that it was all I could do to drag through a day's work.

"But five bottles of Tanlac have changed all that, and I can now eat three good square meals a day and don't know what it is to suffer from indigestion afterwards. The pains have disappeared from my back and I get good sound restful sleep every night. I have already gained twelve pounds in weight and have so much more strength and energy that I do a big day's work without getting tired. It's years since I felt as well as I do today, and the wonderful change in my health is entirely due to Tanlac. Anybody who suffers as I did couldn't do better than try Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Coover Drug Co. and J. F. Shreve, and by the leading drug store in every town.—Adv.

outside of the city, in preparation for the survey is now being done. Representatives of the chapter are now in the field for that purpose, and reports are to the effect that more than usual interest is being manifested by the rural communities.

Owing to the great work the Red Cross has been enabled to do for the service men and their families, extending over many lines of effort, such as locating missing men, obtaining back pay, medical assistance, clerical help in communicating with the government on different subjects of business. In fact in many cases the Red Cross is the intermediary between the people and the government, which, owing to its peculiar manner of transacting business, makes the average person somewhat hesitant to ask for even his acknowledged rights.

Bearing these facts in mind it is to the people's own interest to maintain this agency, and to cooperate in such movements as shall add to its efficiency. It requires no lecture to prove that the community is no better than the individuals composing it, and that relatively a small amount of improvement can be done by any one person or small number of persons. Therefore, let us all engage in this laudable enterprise and help ourselves and our neighbors.

The late Senator Hill of Georgia was widely known and honored for his efforts to uphold his reward, the people of Georgia without regard to race or creed, built to his memory a towering shaft, and on the base of that shaft they chiseled an extract from one of his speeches, which slightly paraphrased fits our condition today: "Who saves his community saves himself, and all who save his community die lets all things dying curse him."

STOCK JUDGING TEAM VISITS GREGORY FARM

Team Was From University of Missouri—Sixteen Were in Party—Will Visit Several Noted Stock Farms.

White Hall, Nov. 8.—The stock judging team of the University of Missouri, sixteen in number, including the two instructors, visited Gregory Farm Saturday, where the party was entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cora, the local guests being Dean Cora, R. B. Pearce and Lee A. Husted, the latter of Roodhouse.

This is the first lap of a tour that will take the team to several leading livestock breeding establishments about the country in advance of their entering the stock judging contest at the international livestock exposition in competition with teams from other state colleges of agriculture.

At Gregory farm particular interest was found in the Percheron horses, one of the young classmen remarking that he learned on this visit more than he ever knew before about horses.

The team was coached by L. A. Weaver and D. W. Chittenden of Columbia, Mo., and the members were: Edwin A. Mayer, Warrensburg, Mo.; B. T. Rodgers, Belflower, Mo.; Wm. T. Angelo, Clinton, Mo.; Robert H. Bawbell, Golden City, Mo.; Chas. I. Skarby, Hard, Mo.; Charles E. Brown, Rush Hill, Mo.; H. G. Crawford, Atlanta, Mo.; John E. Wallace, Kansas City; Roy P. McWilliams, Bucklin; Earl W. Henderson, Columbia; Horace J. Streeter, W. J. Streeter, Bowling Green; Will N. Rippey, Lancaster; M. E. Ewing, Morrisville, Mo. The party returned to Missouri Saturday night, and will continue their tour later.

W. P. Neutzman was brought home Sunday from the hospital at Alton. He is making very satisfactory improvement from his injuries in the automobile accident in which Frank Ross lost his life. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lowenstein departed for Jacksonville, Fla., for a winter sojourn, being joined at St. Louis by Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Lowenstein of Kansas City.

Shorty runs into Teebo!

Dear PETEY:

Checked up our old dormitory pal "Snapper" Teebo this morning waiting on an appointment down Peachtree St. "Snapper" wanted to know a bookfull about my visit to the Camel factories. "Tell us old apple seed," says "Snapper," "you're on the inside!" "Snapper" still has that mighty annoying way of saying, "But that doesn't surprise me."

Anyway—when I explained about the millions of Camels R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. made daily what does the old bird sputter but: "Why, Shorty, they'd have to make that many to supply the demand! Camels have the quality smokers want! And, they have the most wonderful mellow mild body and the most refreshing flavor ever created in a cigarette! Of course they make Camels by millions; of course they buy enough revenue stamps from Uncle Sam every day to build a duplicate of the Winston-Salem post office! Why not? Smokers everywhere will have Camels!"

But, "Snapper" finally got to spilling some real nobby Camel selling stuff! "Shorty," says he, "I want to put it on record that in all the times I've pulled Camels out of my pocket to supply somebody's shortage I've heard enough good things said about 'em to fill a volume! That's my brand; Camels are a wonderful cigarette. 'Like getting money from home,' etc."

"And, Shorty, what's the answer? Why—Camels blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos meets the universal taste! And that's the 'hole' story, old golf ball!"

Pete, you pet phonograph, did you ever hear a better record?

Sincerely,
Shorty Camel CIGARETTES

EXPLAINS HOW TO CREATE NEW LIFE BY QUICK METHOD
Bloomington Fireman is Convinced Anyone Can Do It Through Use of Trutona
Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 8.—"I have been convinced that Trutona will create new life in you when nothing else will," says Homer Seaman, a well known Bloomington city fireman, who lives at 507 Olive street.
"I was severely troubled with indigestion," he continued. "Gas formations in my stomach pressed against my heart and caused it to palpitate. I didn't enjoy any of the food I ate. My liver was very sluggish and my kidneys were out of shape, too. I suffered severe headaches at times, which nearly drove me crazy."
"I had heard so much about the good Trutona was doing for other people, that I decided to try it myself. The result is that I feel like an entirely new person today. My food digests properly now, and the former gas formations and palpitation of the heart don't bother any more. My kidneys are acting properly, also, and the headaches have left me."
"I can certainly praise this wonderful medicine above everything else, and I advise everyone, suffering as I did, to try Trutona at once."
It is remarkable, yet true, that Trutona rarely fails to benefit a patient. The Perfect Tonic goes straight to the seat of your troubles, removes the cause and at the same time, cleanses and revitalizes all other vital organs of the body. It gives you vitality and energy of the kind which scoffs at hardships.
Trutona is sold in Jacksonville by J. P. Shreve and Coover Drug Co., and Wyle Drug Co., Franklin, Ill., and Wyle Drug Co., Waverly, Ill.—Adv.

EXPLAINS HOW TO CREATE NEW LIFE BY QUICK METHOD

Bloomington Fireman is Convinced Anyone Can Do It Through Use of Trutona

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 8.—"I have been convinced that Trutona will create new life in you when nothing else will," says Homer Seaman, a well known Bloomington city fireman, who lives at 507 Olive street.

"I was severely troubled with indigestion," he continued. "Gas formations in my stomach pressed against my heart and caused it to palpitate. I didn't enjoy any of the food I ate. My liver was very sluggish and my kidneys were out of shape, too. I suffered severe headaches at times, which nearly drove me crazy."

"I had heard so much about the good Trutona was doing other people, that I decided to try it myself. The result is that I feel like an entirely new person today. My food digests properly now, and the former gas formations and palpitation of the heart don't bother any more. My kidneys are acting properly, also, and the headaches have left me."

"I can certainly praise this wonderful medicine above everything else, and I advise everyone, suffering as I did, to try Trutona at once."

It is remarkable, yet true, that Trutona rarely fails to benefit a patient. The Perfect Tonic goes straight to the seat of your troubles, removes the cause and at the same time, cleanses and revitalizes all other vital organs of the body. It gives you vitality and energy of the kind which scoffs at hardships.

STOCK JUDGING TEAM VISITS GREGORY FARM

Team Was From University of Missouri—Sixteen Were In Party—Will Visit Several Noted Stock Farms.

White Hall, Nov. 8.—The stock judging team of the University of Missouri, sixteen in number, including the two instructors, visited Gregory Farm Saturday, where the party was entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cora, the local guests being Dean Cora, R. B. Pearce and Lee A. Husted, the latter of Roadhouse. This is the first lap of a tour that will take the team to several leading livestock breeding establishments about the country in advance of their entering the stock judging contest at the international livestock exposition in competition with teams from other state colleges of agriculture.

At Gregory farm particular interest was found in the Percheron horses, one of the young classmen remarking that he learned on this visit more than he ever knew before about horses.

The team was coached by L. A. Weaver and D. W. Chittenden of Columbia, Mo., and the members were: Edwin A. Meyer, Warrensburg, Mo.; B. T. Rodgers, Belflower, Mo.; Wm. T. Angle, Clinton, Mo.; Robert H. Bawbell, Golden City, Mo.; Chas. I. Skarby, Bland, Mo.; Charles E. Brown, Rush Hill, Mo.; H. G. Crawford, Atlanta, Mo.; John E. Wallace, Kansas City; Roy P. McWilliams, Bucklin; Earl W. Henderson, Columbia; Horace J. Streeter, W. J. Streeter, Bowling Green; Will N. Rippey, Lancaster; M. E. Ewing, Morrisville, Mo. The party returned to Missouri Saturday night, and will continue their tour later.

W. P. Neutzman was brought home Sunday from the hospital at Alton. He is making very satisfactory improvement from his injuries in the automobile accident in which Frank Ross lost his life. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lowenstein departed for Jacksonville, Fla., for a winter sojourn, being joined at St. Louis by Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Lowenstein of Kansas City.

Shorty runs into Teebo!

Dear PETEY:

Checked up our old dormitory pal "Snapper" Teebo this morning waiting on an appointment down Peachtree St. "Snap" wanted to know a bookfull about my visit to the Camel factories. "Tell us old apple seed," says "Snapper", "you're on the inside!" "Snap" still has that mighty annoying way of saying, "But that doesn't surprise me."

Anyhow—when I explained about the millions of Camels R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. made daily what does the old bird sputter but: "Why, Shorty, they'd have to make that many to supply the demand! Camels have the quality smokers want! And, they have the most wonderful mellow mild body and the most refreshing flavor ever created in a cigarette! Of course they make Camels by millions; of course they buy enough revenue stamps from Uncle Sam every day to build a duplicate of the Winston-Salem post office! Why not? Smokers everywhere will have Camels!"

But, "Snap" finally got to spilling some real nobby Camel selling stuff! "Shorty," says he, "I want to put it on record that in all the times I've pulled Camels out of my pocket to supply somebody's shortage I've heard enough good things said about 'em to fill a volume! That's my brand! Camels are a wonderful cigarette. Like getting money from home, etc."

"And, Shorty, what's the answer? Why—Camels blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos meets the universal taste! And that's the 'hole' story, old golf ball!"

Pete, you pet photograph, did you ever hear a better record?

Sincerely,

Shorty Camel CIGARETTES

A Word About NASH Passenger CARS

Nash Passenger Cars are Nash built—ninety-three per cent complete, in the one hundred acre Nash factory at Kenosha. This is the big reason for the splendid account they have given and are giving of themselves in the hands of owners from coast to coast.

Thousands of Nash Sixes now in use, by the high character of their service, are proving daily the soundness of Nash manufacturing policies, and the fact that any product bearing the Nash nameplate does represent quality to an unusual degree.

The heavy and nation-wide demand for the Nash Six is but reflection of their good performance for every motoring purpose.

HAD TERRIBLE COUGH AND NIGHT SWEATS

Cough About Gone, Eats and Sleeps Well and Gained 12 Pounds.

"In December, 1912, I had a fearful cough, and my physician ordered me to change climate immediately. I went to San Antonio, Texas, and entered a sanatorium. Left there and came to Oklahoma City in October, 1915. Had no appetite, could not sleep, had night sweats and was losing from one to three pounds a week. I also had catarrh of the bowels, which the doctors had failed to relieve.

"Relatives urged me to try Milk's Emulsion. I did so and began to improve, slowly at first, but steadily. My weight has increased 12 pounds. I have no temperature, and my cough is about gone. I can eat heartily, sleep well, and am working at my trade again."—V. W. Neff, 610 N. Dewey St., Oklahoma City, Okla.

Nature does wonders in fighting off disease, if given the chance. Milk's Emulsion is a powerful help in providing strength and flesh. It costs nothing to try.

Milk's Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physica. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate the food. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk's Emulsion under this guarantee: Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, return the money with the original bottle. Price 75c and $1.50 per bottle. The Milk's Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

A Word About

NASH

Passenger CARS

Nash Passenger Cars are Nash built—ninety-three per cent complete, in the one hundred acre Nash factory at Kenosha. This is the big reason for the splendid account they have given and are giving of themselves in the hands of owners from east to coast.

Thousands of Nash Sixes now in use, by the high character of their service, are proving daily the soundness of Nash manufacturing policies, and the fact that any product bearing the Nash nameplate does represent quality to an unusual degree.

The heavy and nation-wide demand for the Nash Six is but reflection of their good performance for every motoring purpose.

All Nash cars get their unusual power, quietness and economy of operation from the Nash Perfected Valve-in-Head Motor.

HAD TERRIBLE COUGH AND NIGHT SWEATS

Cough About Gone, Eats and Sleeps Well and Gained 12 Pounds.

"In December, 1913, I had a fearful cough, and my physician ordered me to change climate immediately. I went to San Antonio, Texas, and entered a sanatorium. Left there and came to Oklahoma City in October, 1915. Had no appetite, could not sleep, had night sweats and was losing from one to three pounds a week. I also had catarrh of the bowels, which the doctors had failed to relieve.

"Relatives urged me to try Mils Emulsion. I did so and began to improve, slowly at first, but steadily. My weight has increased 12 pounds, I have no temperature, and my cough is about gone. I can eat heartily, sleep well, and am working at my trade again."

—Y. W. Neff, 610 N. Dewey St., Oklahoma City, Okla.

Nature does wonders in fighting off disease, if given the chance. Mils Emulsion is a powerful help in providing strength and flesh. It costs nothing to try.

Mils Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite, and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate the food. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved.

"This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Mils Emulsion under this guarantee:—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 75c and $1.50 per bottle. The Mils Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED FOR ARMISTICE DAY

Service Star Legion Has Planned Fitting Observance of Important Anniversary.

Plans for the observance of Armistice day were given further impetus at a committee meeting held last night at the public library. Women of the Service Star Legion are arranging for the celebration, which will be a dedication of Victory drive at Lake Mauvaisterre. This drive is to be built in memory of all the service men in Morgan county and the program Thursday is in honor of all who had any part in the war. The program is to be carried out at the new lake, near the Superior avenue entrance. If weather conditions are unfavorable the general program will be carried out at Grace M. E. church.

The program has been outlined as follows:

Selection—Illinois College band. Community sing, "The Star Spangled Banner," led by Mrs. Barr Brown and Mrs. A. R. Gregory.

Prayer—Rev. T. H. Tull "America the Beautiful"—J. S. Fearis.

Song—High School Glee club, direction of Miss Lena Hopper.

Song—Boy Scouts.

Address—Mr. H. H. Bancroft. Community singing.

Presentation of trees in behalf of the Service Star Legion and of other organizations and individuals—Mrs. Mary T. Carriel.

Acceptance for the city and county—Mayor E. E. Crabtree. Tree planting ceremony (the band will play as this work progresses.)

Song—"One Band United."—High school glee club.

Community Singing—"America."

Benediction.

Bugle call to the colors—Leonard Potter.

The matter of transportation has been delegated to the Elks lodge and arrangements are being made for automobiles to convey the Gold Star mothers, officers of the Service Star Legion and members of the band, from the public square to the lake. Plans are also making to provide conveyances for persons who take the street-car to Superior avenue. Women and children at least will be so conveyed and the purpose is to provide a liberal number of automobiles for this service.

As the program indicates, music will distinctly feature this patriotic occasion. The High school chorus includes Mabel DeFerris, Vivian Wyatt, Ruth Reynolds, Florence Bentley, Lois Harney, Virginia Cummings, Maude Hackett, Grace Moore, Eugenia Woodman, Katherine Alexander, Clara Smith, Ruth Weber, Arena Mallory, Alice Carter, Elizabeth Boruff, Eunice Haerle, Alberta Whitlock, Ollie Parker, Palmer Shieble, Paul Bolman, George Adams, Frank Corrington, Roy Corrington, Barney Greenfield, Ruth Williamson, piano.

The following violinists will also play: Harlan Moses, George Ober-abe, Elizabeth Scott, Helen Rawlings, Chester Donke, Lyndie Conboy, Sheldon Nicol, and Katherine Morris.

VERTREES WILL FILED

The will of the late Amedea D. Vertrees of Murrayville has been filed for probate at the office of County Clerk George L. Riggs. The will was drawn July 16, 1917, with J. L. Wyatt and James K. Cunningham as witnesses. James E. Osborne is named executor.

The following directions are made: "I will and request that my executor hereinafter named pay all my just and legal debts, by me made, including my funeral expenses."

"I will and bequeath to my grandson, Donald Vertrees Kennedy, $1,000, and will request that the court appoint James E. Osborne his guardian to care for his money until said Donald is 21 years old."

"I will and request that my daughter, Sadie Kennedy, select any article out of the house, or as many articles as she wishes to keep for herself, except three framed pictures that are admired by Ida Ketter, which I will and bequeath to Ida Ketter."

The Testator directs that after above instructions are carried the executor sell all other remaining personal property at as early a date as possible. She wills the sum $100 to the Presbyterian Women's Foreign Missionary society, to be turned over to the custody of J. K. Cunningham.
